WINNING is not only victory in the ballgame,
Or leaving with the prize in a debate meet,
Or the acquisition of a new job.
Winning is more . . .
It is a spiritual sense,
A sense you keep deep down inside
Or shout to the world.
Victory is felt through involvement in activities.
Victory in winning a new friend,
Victory in learning to conjugate "to be" in French,
Victory in working on the steering committee,
Victory in taking Easter baskets to the hospital.
This feeling of victory was felt every day at Clay
By students as they faced their daily life.
The experiences and goals of each student
Created some feeling of winning to the individual
Whether he felt the inner satisfaction,
Or shared his feelings with others.
These feelings combined to make a memorable life
For all Clay students
Through Being, Achieving, and WINNING.

Clay's Victory Bell was created as a symbol of victory and winning. With the loyal support of spirited Colonials and the rugged determination of the teams, it has been rung and rerung. Although now not frequently seen, the Victory Bell is still alive in the minds and hearts of Clayites.

Colonial Spirit Flourishes

Clay students have displayed their spirit in many ways this year. Not only have the halls been decorated by numerous posters, but students of each class and members of various clubs spent many hours preparing floats for the homecoming parade.

For the first time at Clay, divided pep sessions provided a more organized show of spirit. Despite the division of the pep assemblies into Freshman-Sophomore and Junior-Senior groups, there was lively competition for the spirit jug.

Spirit Queen Shelley Amor rides with AFS student Peter Schmutzler.

Varsity and B-team cheerleaders engage in a comical skit in which ". . . all the king's horses and all the Kingsmen couldn't put Humpty together again."

Varsity cheerleaders ignite Clay spirit with a rousing victory cheer.

The spirited varsity football team rides to victory.

Students join in a cheer before the lighting of the bonfire.

Clay supporters inspire the players as the team runs back on the field after half-time.

Rain didn't dampen the spirits of the 1970 Homecoming crowd as the Colonials played for a 52–7 victory over Penn. Queen Ruth Ake and her court reigned over the half-time activities which included the crowning of the queen and the traditional ride around the field.

This year's Basketball Homecoming Spirit Week resulted in much competition and rivalry as the classes tried to out-decorate each other. After all posters were posted and all ribbons hung, the Sophomores were chosen as the best interior decorators.

The members of the court, chosen by the Seniors, were: Anne Chabot, Sherry Amor, Nancy Polman, Linda Stopczynski, and Queen Pat Zoller. The festivities were concluded with the Homecoming Dance in the gym.

Marryin' Sam, alias Mr. Ralph Radecki, plans a wedding for Edna Grenert.

The End of the Beginning provided the music for the annual Sadie Hawkins Dance which was held March 20, 1970. Amidst the rubble of the Dogpatch setting the girls caught their guys and marched them up to Marryin' Sam. Mr. Ralph Radecki performed the services for all the anxious couples. Junior Ruth Ake was named Daisy Mae and Li'l Abner was Senior Joel Haney.

South Bend Progress Club Hosts Prom

Last spring the Juniors broke from the annual tradition of having the Junior-Senior Prom in the gym, and decided to have it in the South Bend Progress Club. Midnight in Central Park was chosen as a theme and was carried out with lanterns along the walls and a fountain which was purchased by the Junior Class. Reigning at the Prom on May 23 were King Joel Haney and Queen Gail Papach. Music was provided by Eddy Jarrett and his band.

The After-Prom was located at the Niles YMCA. Many activities were provided for entertainment, including swimming and dancing. Movies were shown and The End of the Beginning provided music.

Clayites welcomed Peter Schmutzler as their 1970–71 AFS student from Bamberg, Germany. During his eventful year, Peter lived with the Ralph Sanford family and enjoyed the companionship of his brothers Mark, Dave and Jeff, and his sisters Kristine, Kathy, and Kelly. As a senior at Clay, Peter studied Contemporary Society, French IV, Chemistry II, Math IV, and elective English. He also participated in AFS, German Club, and French Club.

Winning . . . through learning.
Whether it was struggling through geometry proofs,
Or a copy of The Red Badge of Courage,
Clayites became winners
As they gained in both experience and knowledge.
There were frustrating moments for many,
But to the individual,
The sudden understanding of how verbs conjugate,
Or seeing why point A connects to point B
Made it all seem worthwhile.
Some gained membership in National Honor Society
Or National Forensic League.
Others were proud of a 'C' on a term paper.
Not only through academics did Clay students learn.
Talented ones wrote music or sculptured.
They became active in church and community groups.
All who participated won
Through asking and learning.

No. 1 and No. 2 Have Principal Jobs

An informed and interested administration is a necessity for any school to function properly. Clay was fortunate in having Mr. Phillip Ell, principal, and Mr. Robert Sikorski, vice-principal, to provide such an atmosphere. Throughout the day both could be found at their respective jobs. Mr. Sikorski adeptly handled the difficult and often trying job of student affairs. Mr. Ell was in charge of the faculty, and the smooth running of the school. He supported all sports, including the baseball team to the state title, and received a championship ring for his participation.

Good Guidance Heads

Are Hard to Come By

To provide more adequate counseling for students in the area of scheduling, careers, college admission and scholarships, a part-time counselor, Miss Clare Groner, was added to the Guidance Department. Also new on the staff was head counselor Thomas Vandewalle and secretary Grace King. Other services included a graduate survey and help with Jr. Hi. scheduling.

As an alternative to regular Senior English, the Electives program was installed on a trial basis, open to all seniors. Out of a variety of courses ranging from contemporary books to Classics, the students chose three. The program is to be expanded next year, offering a wider choice of courses, adapted to the students' particular needs. A new face seen in this department was Mr. Dennis Johnston.

She was Clay's representative in the Indiana University Foreign Language Honors Program.

Department Initiates New Program

Team teaching, advanced courses, and a study of general elections were part of the Social Studies Department. For the first time, team teaching was used for U.S. History and several classes were taught through the joint efforts of Mr. Kasper and Mr. Spears. New subjects included an advanced history class under Mr. Fretz, with students electing the class and the department making the final selections. Also offered was a Comparative Political and Economic Systems course, with Mr. Huston as the instructor. All social studies classes studied, in some detail, results of recent elections of state officials.

Mathematics is Challenging

Both advanced placement and honors courses were available in the Math Department. Advanced math for seniors was combined into one section of analysis, which covered algebra of vectors, mathematical induction, and analytical geometry. Plans were made for advanced trigonometry and Algebra 2 to be offered next year. Honors students took part in an invitational math contest in the spring.

Students Strive For Perfection

The Business Department trained the largest number of students in its history, with courses in diversified fields of secretarial, clerical, and personal skills. Typewriting classes were updated with the arrival of new Olympias, and notehand classes used new texts After a general introduction to business subjects, students could select more intensive training. Many students received further on-the-job training through COE and ICT vocational programs.

Vocational opportunities in various fields were open to Clayites. In Power Mechanics, studies of small gasoline engines and auto basics were made. Vocational auto shop students held in-depth studies on the automobile. In the drafting area four advanced courses were offered, while in Graphic Arts different types of photography were learned. The combined classes offered students a wide range for vocational study.

Home economics courses fall into the three categories of foods, clothing and family living. The overall objective of family living is to help the individual develop wholesome attitudes and understandings concerning human relationships, child development, and the responsibilities of family life that will increase the chances of building a happy future. Basic principles and skills of living are introduced to the students in foods and clothing classes.

Art Department

Enlarges Curriculum

In order to accomodate the growing number of talented art students, an additional drawing and graphics class was added to the Art Department. For the first time, advanced courses were offered to students on the basis of their performance in the Basic Art classes. The department worked closely with the junior high art program in an attempt to encourage potential art majors to begin courses in their freshman year.

Good Food Clean Halls

Although Clay students may seem unaware of their services, the custodial staff and cooks are always occupied with assisting them in many ways. The cooks spend their mornings preparing meals for the student's convenience. The janitors are always present in case of emergency and are available to perform many necessary and sometimes unpleasant duties.

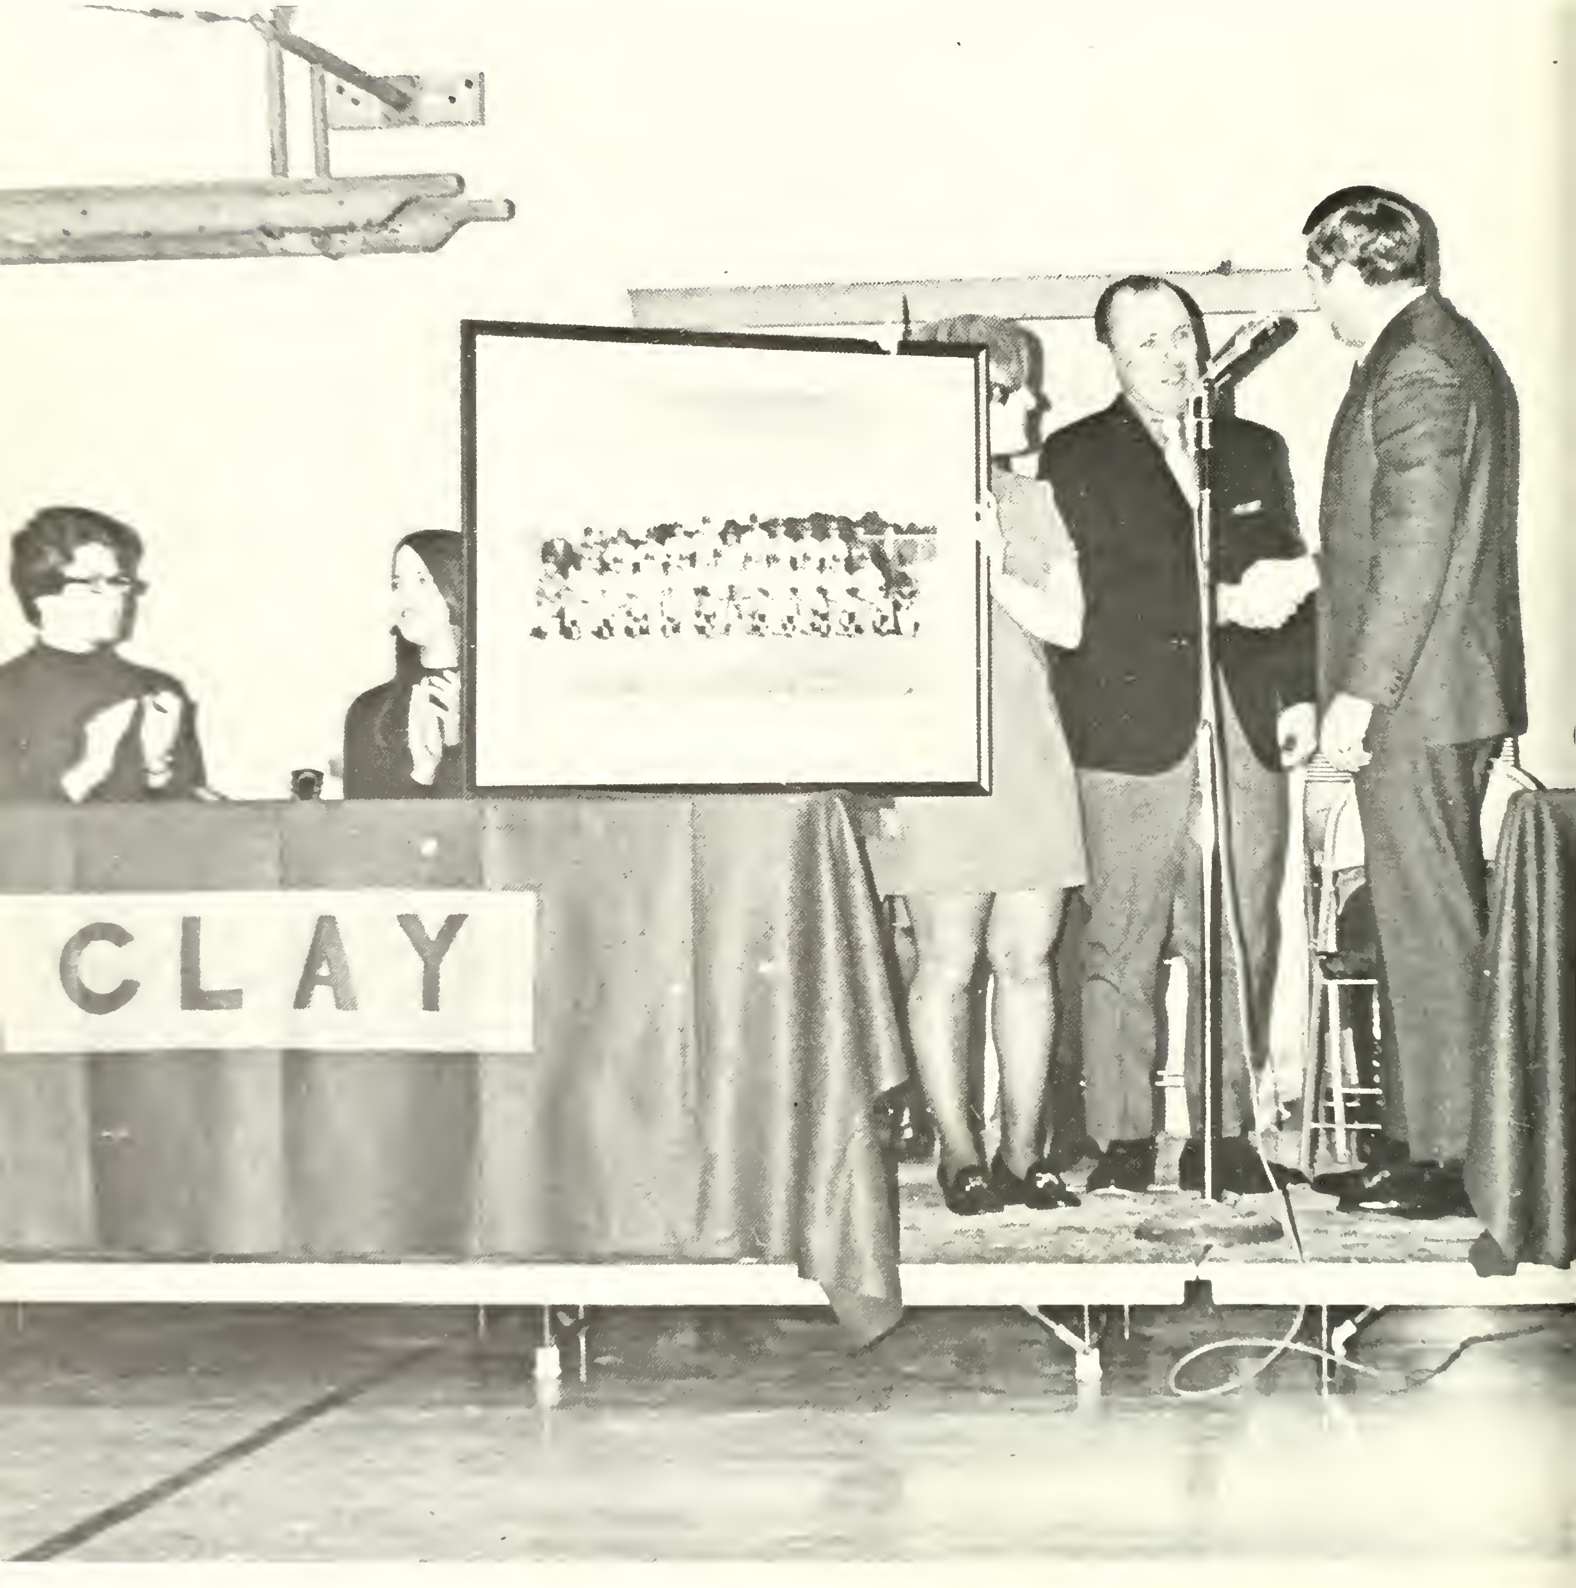
Winning . . .

Through Belonging



Winning . . . through belonging.
Meeting during homeroom or after school,
Clubs offered more than an interlude
From the routine of classes.
They allowed students with common interests
To band together.
Designing posters and washing cars,
Clayites discovered a sense of belonging
As they made new friends.
Activities ranged from honoraries,
Where members were selected,
To service, where volunteers helped others.
Understanding was promoted through food drives,
Hosting an exchange student,
And exploring foreign cultures in language clubs.
Clayites all won
By sharing experiences through belonging.

Spirit Raises Morale

Promoting spirit throughout the school was the objective of the Spirit Club. Under the leadership of Mr. Dan Kasper, the group was responsible for the many decorative posters put up to spur the teams on to victory. They were also responsible for the "Guardian Angel" Week, in which girls in the club watched over boys on various teams.

"71" is a Winning Minuteman

Skipped lunches, rushed deadlines, and long hours of working during and after school became routine for the Minuteman staff. Training workshops, layouts, picture croppings, rewritten copy and many proof-readings were all a part of the production of a yearbook of which the school could be proud.

Consisting of page editors and sponsor Mr. Dennis Johnston, the newly established Student Editorial Board reviewed controversial articles for the Colonial. Continuing as a bi-weekly publication, the paper presented current articles of interest to the student body and doubled its previous size while enjoying a higher subscription rate than ever before. The Colonial printed the student directory, plus the annual Christmas and Senior specials, and, with the yearbook, sponsored the Publications Subscription Dance.

With Mr. Lovin directing and Miss Linda Sims assisting, the 82 band members provided colorful entertainment during football half-time with a variety of tunes. They participated in the annual Memorial Day Parade, and also in the Holiday Parade. The band received a first-place rating last spring at contest, with individually entered members also doing well. Funds were gained through the sale of holiday fruitcakes.

Band officers were president, Steve Deranek; vice-president, Lynn Peterson; secretary, Elaine Galvas; and treasurer, Bob Hibiske. Rocky Leroy was the drum major, with Connie Bradfield as majorette.

Bands Spur Spirit

Rousing school support with music was the job of the pep band, who performed at all home basketball games under Mr. Richard Lovin. The band could be heard striking up the school song at morning pep assemblies, spurring the team on to victory.

An excellent rating was received by the dance band at the annual NISBOVA contest. They were also available for dinner-music engagements.

Musical Entertainment For

The full glee club sings a medley of Christmas carols.

Musical melodies ranging from Christmas carols to modern favorites were provided throughout the year by the glee clubs, under the able direction of Mrs. Dorothy Powers. O'Laughlin Auditorium was the scene of the annual Christmas concert, which was sung to a capacity crowd. For the first time, a city-wide musical program "Motion and Commotion" was sponsored by the school corporation, with Clay students singing a medley of World War I songs, complete with props.

Open to all Clay girls, Y-Teens offered opportunities in both the social and service areas. The first big event was the annual Mr. Irresistible Dance, at which Buddy Palmiter was crowned the most irresistible boy and Carol Barrier, the gabbiest girl. They also sponsored the Thanksgiving program, which featured the presentation to the school of the framed color picture of the 1970 State Baseball Champions. Service to the community was given by the presentation of Christmas baskets, and caroling at the St. Joe County Home. Sponsors were Mrs. Walters and Mrs. Hogue.

Biology, F.T.A.

Take Active Stands

Fighting environmental pollution with action, not words, was the attempt of the Biology Club. Local field trips to places such as sewage treatment plants helped members to understand how vast the pollution problem is, and led them to plan clean-up campaigns. At meetings dissection was also studied, with films shown.

Reading materials, films, and field trips to local colleges constituted the year for Future Teacher members. As part of their preparation, they worked closely with the Cadet Teaching program of South Bend. They also worked as a coordinating agent with the White House Conference on Youth, discussing issues of national attention.

F.T.A. sponsor, Miss Groner listens for forthcoming plans along with other club members.

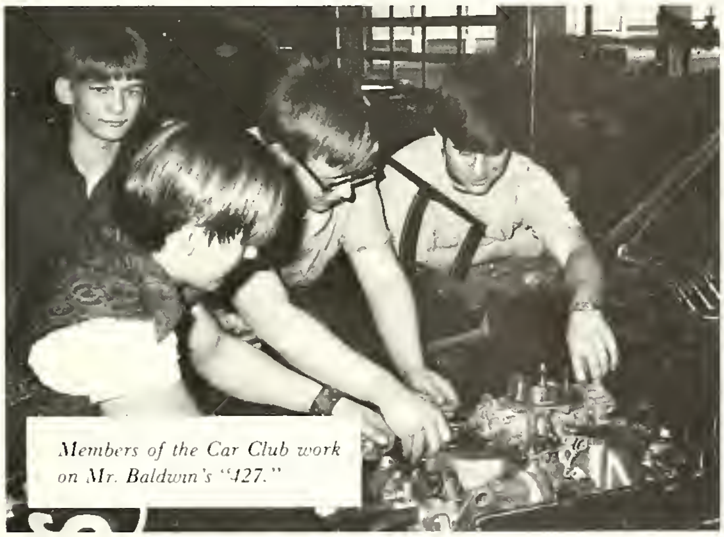
New Organizations Formed



Members of the Car Club work on Mr. Baldwin's "427."

Among the new organizations at Clay, the Astronomy Club was open to those with an interest in the constellations. With Mrs. Frances Seward as sponsor, members studied the stars through telescopic lenses.

Service repairs were done on cars belonging to both students and teachers by the Colonial Car Club. Members gave up study halls to work on the autos, under the supervision of Mr. William Baldwin and Mr. Richard Williams. Officers were Tom Popovic, president; Phil Albert, vice-president; and Ron Cole, secretary-treasurer.

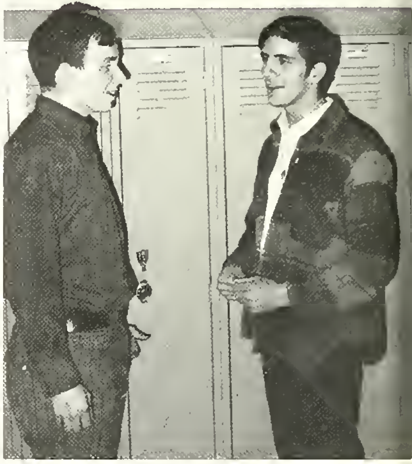
Ushering Service Offered

Mr. Richard Williams, who sells tickets at home basketball games, confers with Mr. Van Laecke, School Comptroller, who also doubles as Ticket Manager.



Head Usher Bob Held consults with Steve Cherrone on upcoming duties.

Assisting in maintaining order at all home games was the purpose of the Ushers Club, under the sponsorship of Mr. Gerald Van Laecke. Members also ushered at a teacher's convention at the Notre Dame ACC in the fall. In the spring, the club held a joint fish fry with the Lettermen's Club. Money from the fish fry was used to purchase new jackets for all members. Officers were pres. Bob Held, vice-pres. Mike Jacobs, sec. Chuck Grove, and treas. Greg Powell.

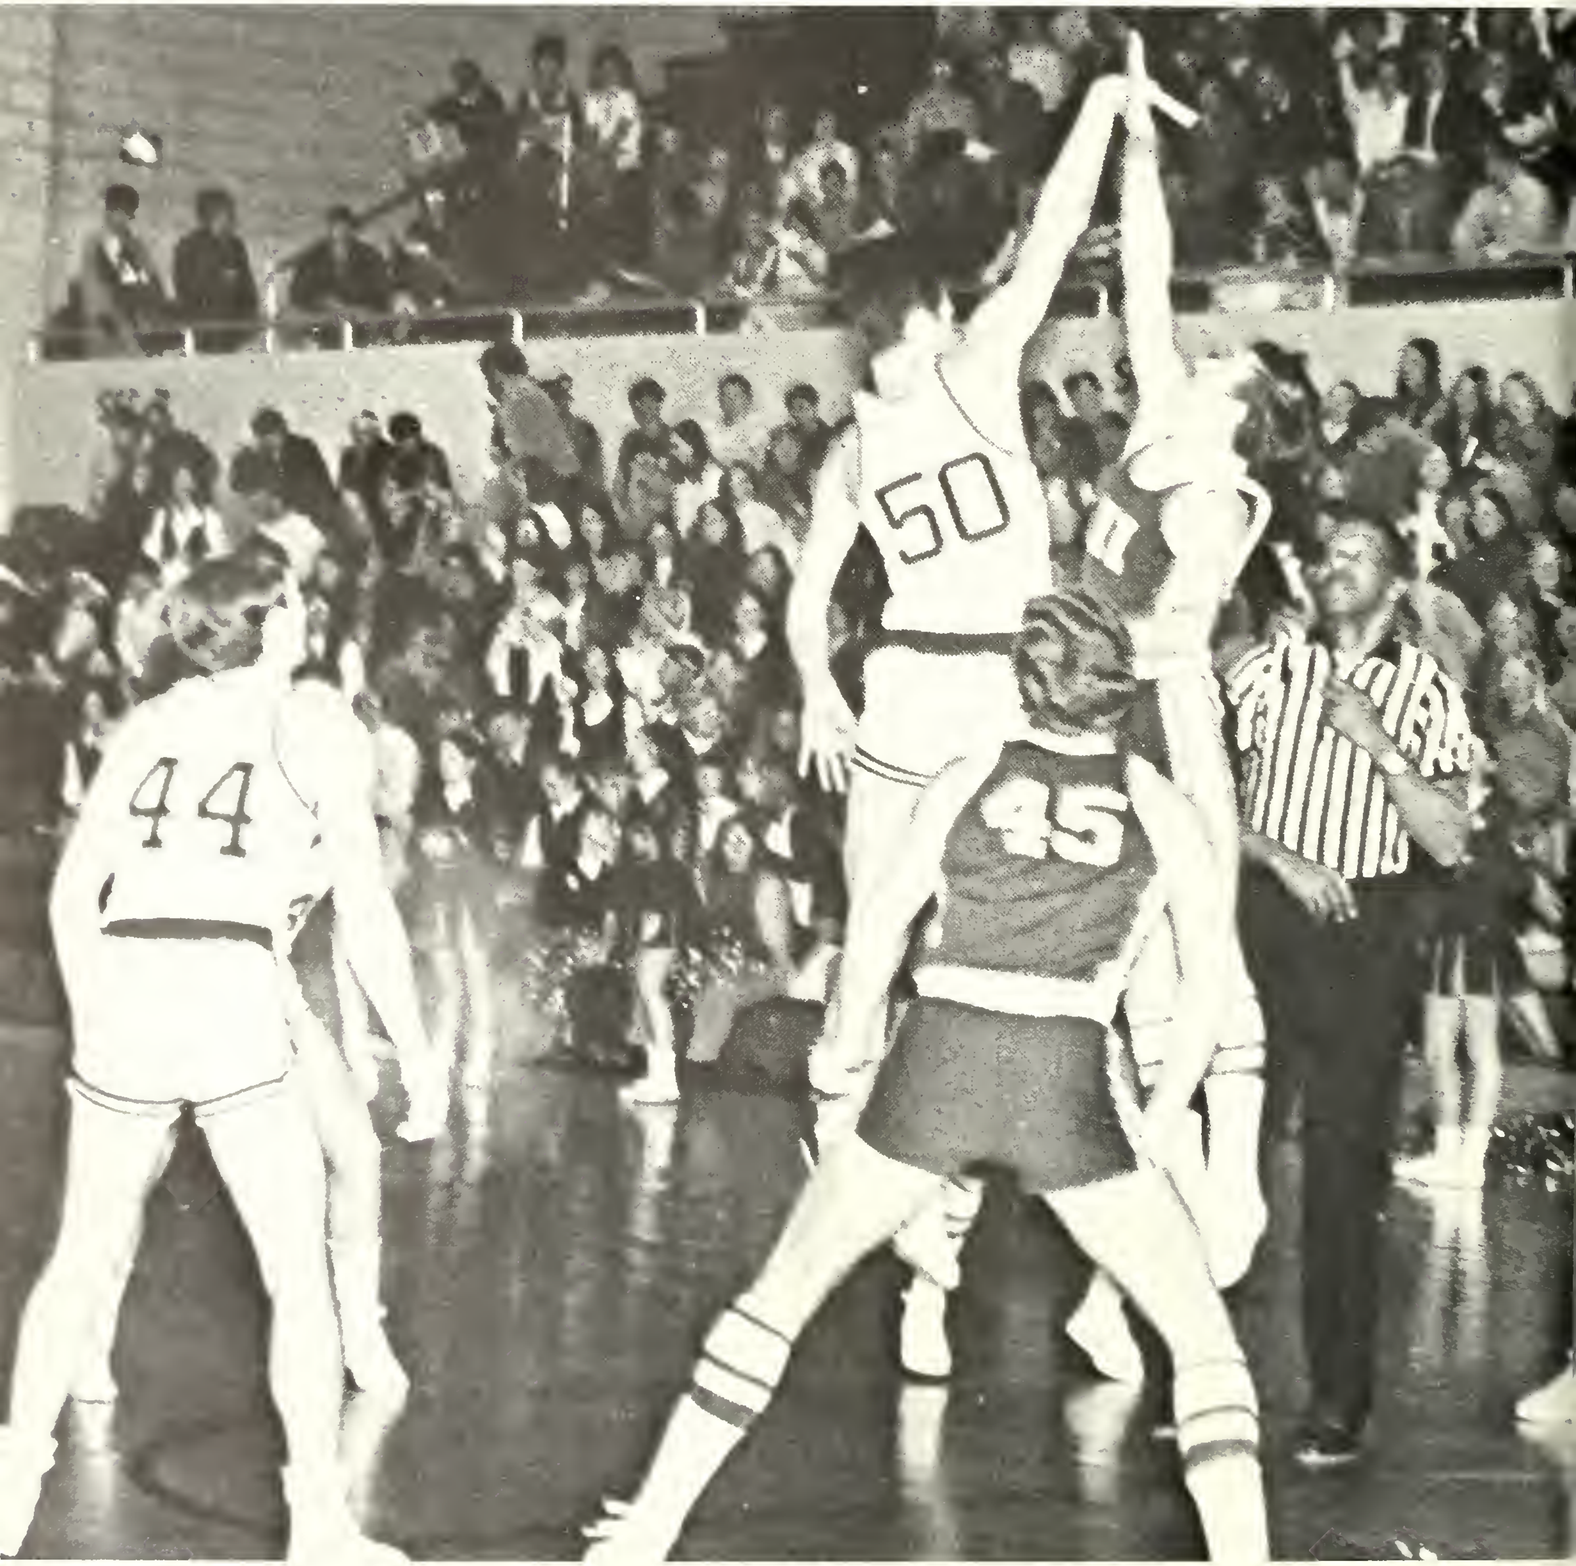
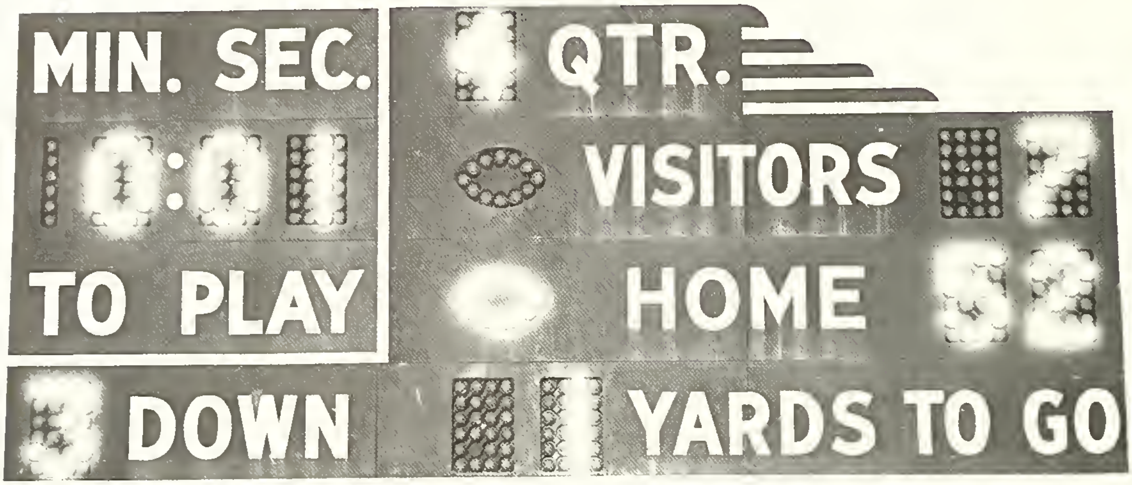
Winning . . .

Through Competing



Winning . . . through competing.
Foremost in the minds of proud Clayites
Was the State Baseball title.
But winning did not mean the championship alone.
Winning was completing the twenty continuous laps
Of butterfly or crawl,
Finishing the five-mile run on a windy day,
Passing a football or receiving a punt
In ninety degree weather or cold, drizzling rain.
Winning was also getting the tip or pinning your
Or pinning your opponent.
Long hours of practice were involved
In swinging a golf club or a tennis racquet.
Often the practice involved skipping meals
Or extra hours of sleep.
But Clayites were all winners
When they knew they had done their best.

Homecoming Highlights Year



Top score of the season.

A 52–7 Homecoming victory over Penn highlighted the gridiron season. The team was plagued by injuries, including those of seniors Phil Bonadies, Gary Evans, and Tom Kinney. Other valuable injured players were juniors Mike Ryan, and Ralph Anderson, both of whom suffered arm injuries; and sophomore Jeff Cavender, who was put out of action with a broken leg. The overall record was 2 wins and 5 losses.

Practicing throughout the long winter, girls' volleyball games began in early March. The team had a busy season, playing the other area schools which had twice-a-week games in a round-robin tournament. Double elimination tournaments were held in mid-April. Matmaids, under the direction of Coach Dave Gleason, kept scores and performed other useful tasks throughout the wrestling season.

As Bob Schell slid across home plate, jubilant Colonial fans began the first celebration of Clay's reign as the 1970 State Baseball Champions. The amazing Colonials climaxed their 33-game winning streak by beating Evansville Memorial 3-2 at Bush Stadium in Indianapolis before 5,000 people, more than half of them Colonial fans. Upon their return to South Bend, fire engines, fan buses, and cars returning from the game formed a parade through town. Drizzling rain and a crowd of several thousand enthusiastic fans greeted the team at the junior high school, with School Supt. Donald Dake among the speakers.

Coach Jim Reinebold and his Colonials began their winning tradition on the annual spring trip to southern Indiana, in which they won 5 out of 7 games. Their overall record was 39 wins and three losses.

The city honored the team at the Elks Club before a capacity crowd. WSBT-TV Sports Director Joe Pate was master of ceremonies, with Principal Phillip Ell and I.H.S.A.A. Commissioner Phil Eskew, as main speakers. Governor Edgar Whitcomb proclaimed June 26, 1970, as "South Bend Clay Colonial Day" throughout Indiana.

Coach Reinebold's closing comment, "Thanks to everyone for the greatest week of our lives," was not only his thought or the team's; but the thought of every proud Clayite who could now truthfully say, "We're Number One!"

Winning . . .

Through Communicating

Winning . . . through communicating.
Whether it was a friendly nod of the head,
Or a warm tap on the shoulder,
Clayites were winners
As they broke communication barriers
And made friends among classmates
And faculty alike.
Every time a teacher took the patience
To explain the wonders of higher algebra
To a bewildered student;
Whenever a freshman was befriended
By an upperclassman,
Communication was made.
Through a silent look, or a spoken word,
Students and faculty both won
As the communication gap was bridged.

After four years together, the senior class stands on the threshold of a new world; a world in which the times are changing; an adult world that graduation opens and lays before them. They are on the brink of an inner odyssey in which new challenges await them. The break between high school and the adult world is exciting and yet ultimately painful, leaving friends and memories scattered behind like leaves in the wind. They are a part of a generation that strives to better the world. Destiny alone knows what path in life each will choose, but it is hoped they will follow the words of the class song: "Come on people now, smile on your brother, everybody get together, try to love one another right now . . ."

In School Spirit

Juniors show spirit with a bonfire float.

Attaining the status of upperclassmen, the juniors won in many areas. Most of them braved T.B. tests, U.S. History, Advanced Algebra, and Macbeth. Others shook through the P.S.A.T. in readiness for higher education. Chosen as the prom theme, Camelot was financed by bake sales and other money-making projects. Throughout the year, in whatever they encountered, the juniors prepared for their year ahead as seniors.

Bob Cantwell takes the spirit jug as the juniors win again!

Through Determination

Sophs relax after a rough morning as they chat between mouthfuls of food.

Writer's cramp attacks sophomores as they produce a composition.

Sophomores attend assembly to learn about next year's courses.

Sophomores participated in many activities during the past year. To earn money for next year's prom, an October car wash was held. When January arrived, parents were bribed for down-payments on rings, purchased for the first time from the L. G. Balfour Co. Competing in the Spirit Week hall decorating contest, sophs received first place for their efforts. The class of 1973 planned next year's schedule, signed up for Driver's Ed., and hoped for the best.

Sophomores work hard so that they can produce a winning hall for Spirit Week.

Freshmen class officers: Kathy VandeKamp, Ann Porowski, Bob Hart, and Bruce Ryan.

Secretary: Kathy Van de Kamp

Treasurer: Bruce Ryan

Through Experience

Freshmen gather at an assembly to meet Clay's AFS student, Peter Schmutzler.

As freshmen, the class of '74 came to Clay High School filled with enthusiasm for what was awaiting them in the year ahead. They began with the election of class officers and participated in school activities such as Human Relations food drive, the Christmas seal sale, Homecoming, and Mr. Irrisistible. With the help of their sponsor, Mr. Daniel Polizzotto, the freshmen made it through their first year of high school.

Sponsor Mr. Daniel Polizzotto gives advice to President Ann Porowski regarding class activities.

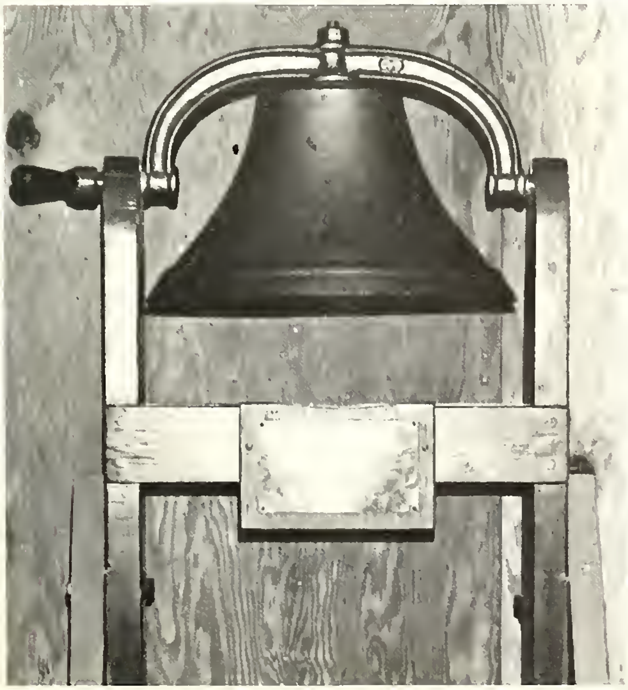
Winning . . .

Through Contributing



Winning . . . through contributing.
It was a give and take effort
For both students and area businesses.
Support and money were contributed to Clay
From local businessmen
By the way they backed the baseball team
All the way to the state championship.
Service was contributed to the community
By students who grilled hamburgers and pancakes,
Carted groceries, and pumped gas.
All won who offered their time and skills
To better the surrounding community.

Clay Romps to Diamond Crown

Those Amazing Colonials

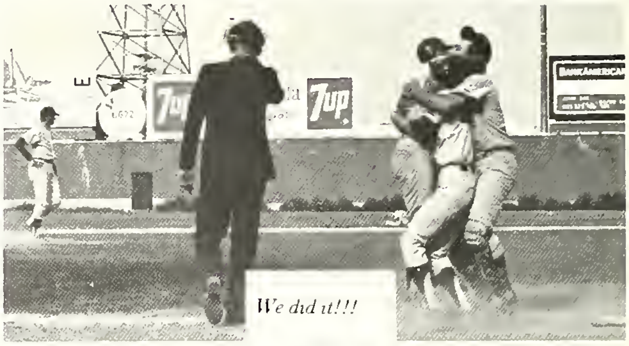
They had poise, ability and character. Their record was absolutely dazzling as they headed for Indianapolis and the finals of the Indiana High School baseball tournament. Their supporters were confident.

And the Clay Colonials and Coach Jim Reinebold went on to prove that everything said and written about them in recent weeks was the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth.

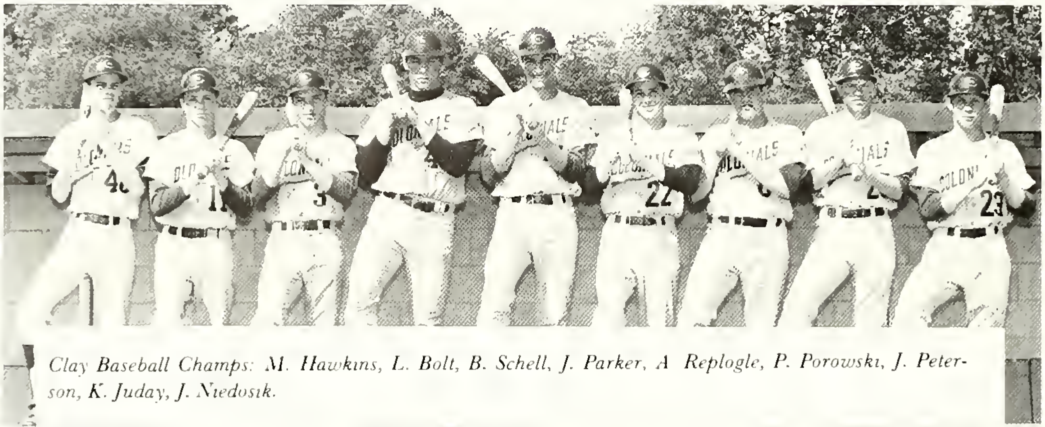
They are the champions of Hoosierdom with a record of 39 victories against three losses and 33 straight wins on the way to the title. It is an amazing record that is likely to stand a long time, a record that bespeaks talent, splendid coaching, tenacity, discipline and all the other ingredients that go into the making of a champion.

We are proud of the accomplishment of Coach Reinebold and his title holders and extend our heartiest congratulations.

What a record! It leaves one a little breathless.



We did it!!!



Clay Baseball Champs: M. Hawkins, L. Bolt, B. Schell, J. Parker, A Replogle, P. Porowski, J. Peterson, K. Juday, J. Niedosik.

J. R. and his Missus.

I call it the wheel
Who needs it?

There's always somebody who can't grasp a new idea. Fortunately, there are a lot of other people . . those who get ideas, and those who listen to them and do something . . so that there's progress in our old world.

Like a lot of American businesses, we've built our whole company on new ideas. Like the total-electric home, and the all-electric school, and reducing the cost of our product while everyone else was raising theirs.

A lot of our ideas came to us from young people who joined our company, and from others outside, in other industries. But the important thing is what we did with those ideas. And what we hope to do with more that come to us in the future.

Business needs ideas. Got any?

A Year of Victory

Draws to a Close

Indeed, 1970–71 was a winning year at Clay. A state champion baseball team emerged, and individual students were honored in music, sports, academics, and various fields of endeavor. Every Clayite became a winner at one time or another throughout the year by both his major and minor accomplishments. As the year draws to a close, all this is over, but not forgotten. The winning tradition is carried on from one year to the next.

Each member of the Minuteman Staff joins me in hoping that as you look through this book, you will remember all that made 1970–71 a year of victory.

Many thanks go to a dedicated and dependable staff that worked late hours and forfeited lunches and free time for the production of this book. A special thanks goes to advisor Mrs. Geraldine Walters, who steered us through our many crises, and to DeGroff's for their tolerance and advice.

As editor, I hope this book successfully captures the winning spirit of Clay, and helps you to always remember this year at Clay High School.

Oriole 3rd Baseman Talks to Athletes

1971 Baseball Co-captains Andy Replogle, above left, and Kent Juday, above right pose with Brooks Robinson.

Best Wishes
Brooks
Robinson

Brooks Robinson of the Baltimore Orioles visited the school on December 18, 1970 to talk with members of athletic groups and to show a movie of the 1970 World Series, which was titled "The Brooks Robinson Story." Especially interested in his visit were baseball coach Jim Reinebold, pictured above, and junior members of the 1970 State Champion Baseball team Jim Peterson, Kent Juday, Robinson, Andy Replogle, Paul Porowski, and Tim Penkala, pictured below.
